

EDITOR'S PICK: SWEET NEWS

I'm no camper, but I'd be happy to pitch my tent in Fog City News. Dazzled by the 75 food and wine magazines and more than 150 high-end chocolate bars to choose from, I've wiled away many hours here in the name of research. Not only is this the largest magazine store in the Bay Area, but owner Adam Smith has composed a guide to his chocolate selection that would put Robert Parker's tasting notes to the test (El Rey mijao: "...hints of maple syrup and sweet roasted peppers, then a brief finish with aspects of lemon and mandarin orange"). I strongly recommend pairing Santa Cruz based Richard Donnelly's silky handmade milk chocolate with coconut and Edward Behr's quirky food journal the Art of Eating; Belgium's Dolfin dark chocolate with almonds and Saveur; a real UK Cadbury bar with Food Illustrated. Pure joy. —Sara Deseran, Food Editor

7x7 magazine. November 2002. p70

“Dazzled by the 75 food and wine magazines and more than 150 high-end chocolate bars to choose from, I've wiled away many hours in the name of research.”

Editor's Pick: Sweet News

I'm no camper, but I'd be happy to pitch my tent in Fog City News. Dazzled by the 75 food and wine magazines and more than 150 high-end chocolate bars to choose from, I've wiled away many hours here in the name of research. Not only is this the largest magazine store in the Bay Area, but owner Adam Smith has composed a guide to his chocolate selection that would put Robert Parker's tasting notes to the test (El Rey Mijao: "...hints of maple syrup and sweet roasted peppers, then a brief finish with aspects of lemon and mandarin orange"). I strongly recommend pairing Santa Cruz-based Richard Donnelly's silky handmade milk chocolate with coconut and Edward Behr's quirky food journal, The Art of Eating; Belgium's Dolfin dark chocolate with almonds and Saveur; a real UK Cadbury bar with Food Illustrated. Pure joy. 435 Market St. 415-543-7400 —Sara Deseran

Fog City News